2a Colonel Street

Portpatrick, Stranraer

Nestled within the most sought-after seaside village of Portpatrick, this charming 3/4 -bedroom semi-detached villa presents a rare opportunity to embrace coastal living at its finest. From the terraced garden, there are wonderful views over the village itself to the waters of the North Channel and to Northern Ireland beyond. Just a stone's throw away from the picturesque promenade, this residence exudes tranquility and charm.

Spanning three levels and in excellent condition throughout, the interior boasts generous family accommodation featuring a splendid 'dining' kitchen with direct access to the rear garden, a delightful shower room and attractive internal woodwork. Of timber frame construction under a slate roof the property also benefits from oil central heating and a wood-burning stove, complemented double-glazed sash and case windows.

Step outside to discover a generously proportioned terraced garden ground. Offering a seamless blend of natural beauty and functionality, the garden overlooks the village and North Channel beyond, inviting residents to unwind amidst the stunning vistas. Accessible from street level and via a charming bridge from the dining room, the garden beckons with its array of patios, adorned with natural bluebell and willow borders. Ascend the sandstone steps, graced with iron railings, to explore the various terraces, one of which features a tranquil garden pond.

Hallway

The property is accessed by way of a wooden storm door, repurposed from the Lighthouse on the Ailsa Craig. There is a hall cupboard and an understairs cupboard that is ideally suited as a wine cellar. Spindle and rail staircase to the first floor.
